There are so many good additional income opportunities available, with some even paying more than many day jobs.

FACT

Side Hustle:

- Any type of employment undertaken in addition to one's full-time job.
- Generally freelance or piecework in nature, providing a supplemental income.
- Could be something a person is passionate about.
- A job worked in order to make ends meet. Basically an "A to B" job until you find that "C" (Career) job.

Cha-Ching!

- Depending on what you choose to do and how much time you are willing to allocate to your side hustle, this will determine how much money you can make.
- You can make an extra $50 per month all the way up $2,000+ per month.

Things to think about before you begin:

- Whichever side hustle/s you choose, work is work. Putting in no less than 100% is not an option. Plus, this could lead to greater opportunities.
- Focus on finding opportunities you are already good at or enjoy. This makes it much easier.
- The more time you commit to your side hustle, the less time you have to focus on finding a full-time job.
- The side hustles that pay more require more time and effort. The opposite is also true.

Things to think about before you begin:

- No more than three side hustles at time, or one – or maybe all – will suffer.
- Not all side hustles are glamorous, but the least attractive side hustles often pay the most.
- If you come across a side hustle that says “get-rich-quick” — run in the opposite direction. It’s likely not true and a scam.
- BE COMMITTED! The biggest mistake you will make is giving up on your side hustle too early. Just because it’s not your “forever” job, anything that’s worth something, takes effort.

Uber & Uber Eats:

- Work on your schedule. Deliver for a few hours in the mornings, every night, or just on weekends - it's up to you. You are your own boss and you can choose when and how much you work.
- Choose your wheels. Depending on the rules in your city, you may be able to deliver with your car, bike or scooter.

Uber:

 As of April 1, 2019, Uber is not accepting new for-hire vehicle driver sign-ups in New York City, due in part to new TLC regulations.

You can create an account to join the waitlist to drive with Uber in NYC, and consider other ways to earn with Uber, like delivering with Uber Eats or driving with Uber outside of the five boroughs.
